Retail loans cause more pain in Q2

Credit Suisse expects delinquencies at 5–10% for pvt banks, 9–12% for NBFCs

HAMSINI KARTHIK
Mumbai, 27 October

Stress in retail loans had started building up around this time last year, owing to the slowdown in economic activity. The pandemic and subsequent lockdown may have added to stress, if the September quarter (Q2) results of India's largest retail lenders across segments — HDFC Bank, Bajaj Finance, and SBI Cards — are anything to go by.

In case of HDFC Bank, for instance, retail growth at 5.3 per cent year-on-year was at a decadal low, and so was the share of retail loans at 46.7 per cent.

Except personal loans and credit cards, retail growth was even lower. HDFC Bank's high share of unsecured loans — at 16 per cent of its retail book — poses a risk, while the secure pockets of auto and housing loans continue witnessing a decline in growth.

In the case of Bajaj Finance, the worrying factor was the sharp and unprecedented rise in the pool of 60 day-plus overdue loans (60DPD). The consumer (wholesale and retail) and auto loan pockets, which account for over 65 per cent of total loans, witnessed the 60DPD ratio rising from 1.2-1.5 per cent (10 per cent in auto loans) to 7-25 per cent.

Therefore, even if collection trends improve as indicated, normalisation may be many quarters away.

SBI Cards' Q2 was more alarming, with the gross non-performing asset ratio surging to 4.3 per cent — up from 1.4 per cent in Q1. The card issuance data suggests that in present conditions, the lender would prefer caution to growth. Though prudent as a strategy, slow growth could drag the overall asset quality down.

Based on the initial assessment of Q2 results, analysts at Credit Suisse have forecast delinquencies in retail loans to come in at 5-10 per cent for private banks and 9-12 per cent for non-banking financial companies (NBFCs).

"Early reporting on segment-level delinquencies in Q2 indicates wide variances in consumer loan delinquency — trending at 17 per cent and 21 per cent in credit cards and two-wheelers, respectively, 10-11 per cent in the microfinance and tractors segments, less than 10 per cent in commercial vehicles, and 3-7 per cent in business banking and LAP (loan against property)," they note.

Improving trends in monthly collections is a critical assumption while extrapolating these numbers.

Suresh Ganapathy of Macquarie Capital remains unchanged on his estimates of total gross addition to stressed assets, at 8-10 per cent over the next nine months. He expects half the moratorium book to come under stress.

"Some (lenders) argue that 80 per cent (of the moratorium book) will be fine, and only 20 per cent could be stressed. We find it difficult to digest how a customer could pay the dues for September or October, when he has not paid up for six months," he points out.

Ashish Singhal, managing director of Experian Credit Information Company India, partially agrees with Ganapathy, saying collection efficiency is 200-400 bps below pre-Covid levels, indicating deterioration in asset quality.

"Some customers thought the Supreme Court's stay on NPA recognition was an extended moratorium," he adds. If not for this, NPA numbers would have been different.

Hence, the months ahead will be crucial for judging retail asset quality. Much of it would depend on the financial position of borrowers, along with the lender's willingness in growing its books.

"We are not seeing a shift to low-rated customers enquiring or availing of loans. However, in terms of actual portfolio performance and scores, the next 2-3 months are critical," cautions Singhal. For now, rating agencies say enquiries are increasing for home loans, auto loans, and credit cards vis-à-vis personal loans — indicating a lower chance of revolving loans to meet monthly dues.

Axis Bank, ICICI Bank, and IndusInd Bank are set to disclose their Q2 numbers this week. Their commentary will be important to judge if the retail credit cycle has run its course.

Home loan offers: Conditions apply

They may be available only to those whose credit score exceeds a level or who buy insurance also

SANJAY KUMAR SINGH

Just as property developers are deluging prospective homebuyers with price discounts, payment plans, and freebies, banks and housing finance companies (HFCs), too, have come out with special offers on home loans this festive season. These include lower interest rates and complete or partial waiver of the processing fee.

If you have to choose between a lender offering a special interest rate and one offering concession on the processing fee, go with the former. "The processing fee is a one-time concession, while the benefit of a lower interest rate will accrue for a longer period," says

Many lenders charge a fee for legal and technical evaluation of the property, in addition to a processing fee. A lender may advertise that it is waiving the processing fee, but may levy the other fee. Borrowers need to clarify this

Arvind Rao, chartered accountant and founder, Arvind Rao & Associates. Not every borrower will be able to avail of the offers being advertised. "These days, offers come with eligibility criteria attached. A lender could, for instance, be giving special loan rate only to clients with a credit score of 750 and above," says Gaurav Gupta, founder and chief executive officer (CEO), MyLoanCare. He suggests that borrowers should also check if the lender is funding the property you are interested in. Many lenders charge a fee for legal and technical evaluation of the property, in addition to a processing fee. A lender may advertise it is waiving the processing fee, but may levy the other fee. Borrowers need to clarify this.

Some special offers are only available if customers purchase insurance from the lender. "Depending on the type of insurance sold, the cost could range between 1 per cent and 7 per cent of the loan amount," says Gupta. Find out in advance if the offer is available only if you buy the insurance cover.

You will have a long association with the lender you choose. Enquire from existing borrowers about its service standards. With a pandemic raging, it would be advisable to select one with a strong online presence, or one with an office close to your residence.

Also find out if, to avail of a time-bound offer, you need to apply by a certain date or get your loan approved by then. "It should not happen that by the time your loan is approved the special offer period has ended and you cannot avail of it," says Rishi Mehra, CEO, Wishfin.

Finally, you will need to decide whether to borrow from a bank or an HFC. When you borrow from the former, your home loan rate will be linked to the repo rate. Transmission of rate cuts will happen more transparently here. A bank also agrees to accept a lower margin when it makes a special offer and cannot hike the margin unless the borrower's creditworthiness changes.

If you go with an HFC, the loan rate will be linked to an internal benchmark called the prime lending rate. "Some HFCs take more time to reduce the rate for existing customers than others and must be avoided," says Mehra. Doing some research online will help you zero in on an HFC that has a better record of transmitting rate cuts.

Soaring potato prices make farmers jittery

SIDDHARTH KALHANS
Lucknow, 27 October

With potato rates touching a new high every day, farmers in Uttar Pradesh are finding it difficult to acquire seeds. In the crop season, farmers are forced to buy potato seeds at three times the rates compared to previous years.

Potato seed is selling for ₹60-70 per kg in the open market this year as compared to ₹18-22 earlier. Crop area of potato is set to reduce this year due to high rates of seeds.

Potato seed is selling for ₹60-70 per kg in the open market this year as compared to ₹18-22 earlier potato seeds are in great demand. According to traders, these varieties of seeds are selling for ₹60-72 per kg.

Last year, these potato seeds were selling at ₹18-22 per kg. According to farmers, besides the high rate of seeds, the cost of other items such as fertilisers and insecticides have also increased. Although the UP government opened seed counters at the state-owned cold stores but due to freight charges and distance, very few farmers are availing this facility.

Potato farmer from Aligarh Mohit Singh said due to the high rate of seeds, people are shying away from this crop. When the seeds are costly, the crop is sold cheaper and this trend is bothering farmers, he added.

Agriculture expert SK Singh said because of the high rate of seeds, the crop area in UP may reduce by 20 per cent this year.

According to him, in the sowing season, a farmer needs four quintals of seed for one bigha. Adding labour, fertiliser and other items, the cost of potato production will soar this year.

Besides, the farmers are not sure about potato rates in the near future and this has been keeping them away from sowing during the year.

For the last three years, there has been record production of potato in UP. Last year, UP had produced more than 165 lakh tonnes of potato.
